25X1C Between 1 and 6 p.m. on 27 August 1951, Parchim airfield was occupied by 18 silver gray MiG-15s, including three with the numbers C 52, C 53, and C 55; 14 dark green MiG-15s without numbers but with red Soviet stars; and 16 single-engine dark blue aircraft with radial engines. * There was only individual flying by single-engine planes. **

25X1A * Comment. Probably Yak-11s.
* Comment. According to another source, the field is occupied by a fighter regiment. The regiment is equipped with MiG-15s and probably some Yak-11s. The reported number of 16 single-engine aircraft appears too high. Numbers on MiG-15s with a prefix C are reported for the first time. Previously, only two-digit, three-digit, and four-digit numbers were seen on MiG-15s stationed at airfields in the Soviet Zone of Germany. Therefore, the correctness of the numbers reported is doubted.
